

SPRINGTIME

AT BIG STAR FARM

by Maya Koffman.

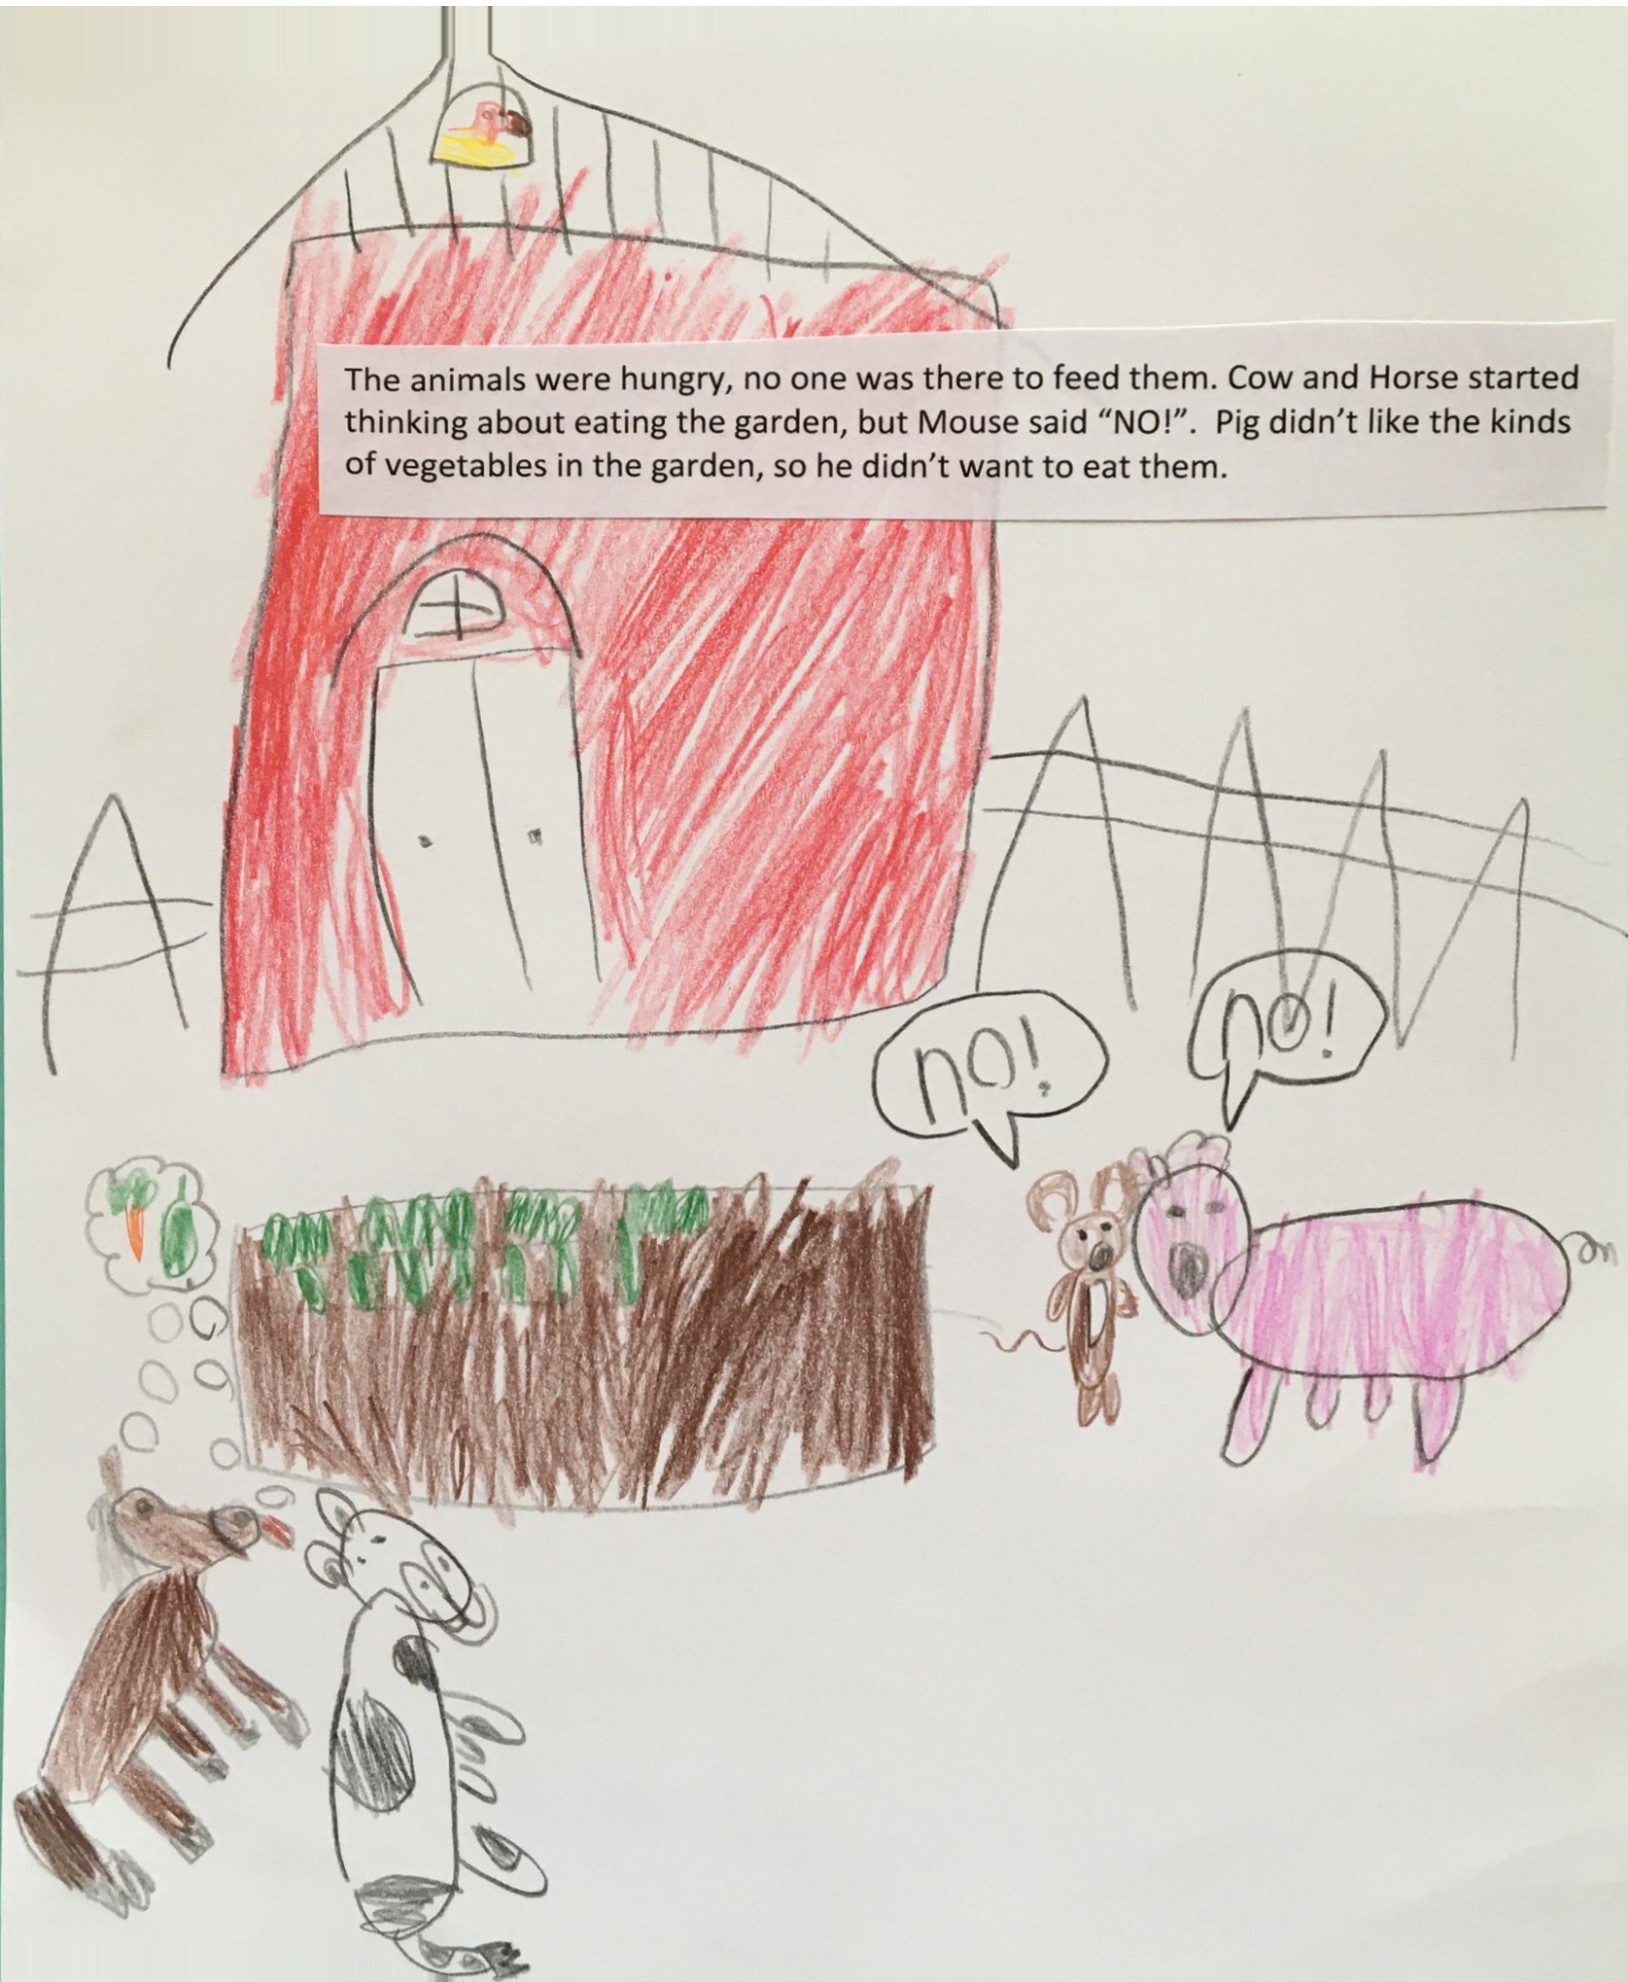

Once upon a time at Big Star Farm, there lived a farmer with his horse, cow, pig, and mouse.

It was Spring at the farm. Farmer planted a new vegetable garden. The garden took a long time to grow. When it finally grew, the farmer took a vacation and left the animals home.

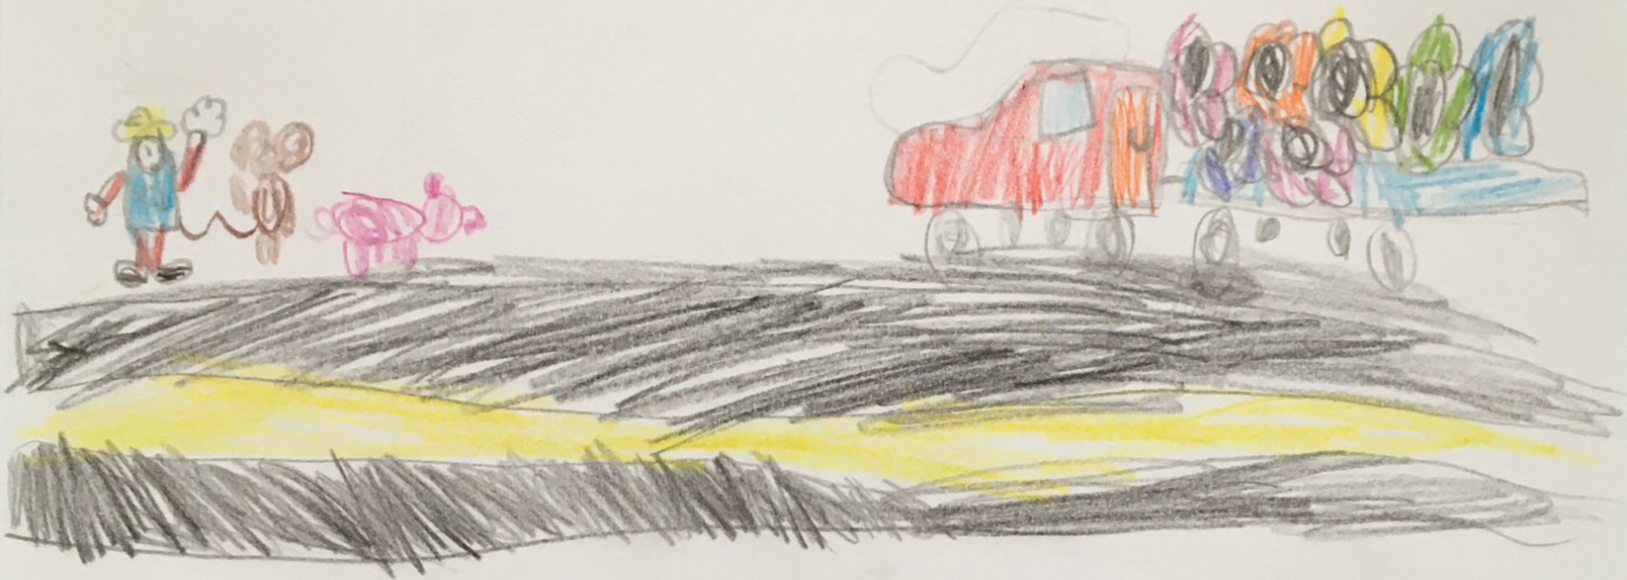

The animals were hungry, no one was there to feed them. Cow and Horse started thinking about eating the garden, but Mouse said "NO!". Pig didn't like the kinds of vegetables in the garden, so he didn't want to eat them.

Mouse's phone started ringing, and when he went to answer it, Cow and Horse ate up all the vegetables! When Mouse came back, he saw the garden had been eaten. Mouse called Farmer and told him what Cow and Horse had done. Farmer was mad and came right home.

It was time for the Springtime Parade. Farmer took Mouse and Pig to the parade.

Cow and Horse had to stay home and plant a new garden. All that work made them very hungry. Horse looked at Cow and said, "I have an idea..."

